Dear Parents/Carers

World Book day will take place on Thursday 7th March.

The whole school will be celebrating this day and our theme will be the story by Pippa Goodhart and Nick Sharratt "You Choose".

The children will be taking part in lots of book related activities throughout the day.

As the book is all about favourite things, we would like all the children to come to school on Thursday dressed as something that they really like. They could come dressed in their favourite colour, as their favourite animal, in clothing from another country or as what they would like to be when they grow up. Please don't buy anything new for the day, just use clothes that the children already have.

We hope that we will have a fabulous day with lots of children dressed in fantastic outfits and most importantly we will spend the day enjoying reading.

Yours sincerely

Ms A M Conboy
